

Gus Cantieni, Class of 2020

1st choice: Mentor New York

Others I would love to be part of: Let's Get Ready, Building Beats, BronxWorks

To Whom it May Concern,

I write to inquire after your Mentor New York because of my desire take action and solve what I know are some of the most significant problems facing America right now. I've become passionate about changing the misconceptions surrounding education and intelligence, and want to empower individuals and help them succeed.

I offer a firm foundation in teaching and mentoring through my early experience as a resident leader and tutor in high school, and my work experience has further complemented this skill. As a lifeguard I interacted with kids frequently, improving my communication skills, and as a dining hall manager I learned the value of leadership and commitment. My coursework has made me confident in a broad range of scholarly activities, from critical writing to data management and object oriented programming. I think these, along with my cheerful attitude, intense work ethic, and detail oriented approach, make me a strong candidate for this position.

The top portion of my resume highlights my education, and below is my career profile and four significant accomplishments in areas of management and leadership.

You can reach my any time via my cell, (413) 522-4103, or via email at gus_cantieni@brown.edu.

I'd welcome the opportunity to speak with you if you think I would be a strong candidate for this or any other position.

Sincerely,

Gus Cantieni
